

The background of the entire page is decorated with a pattern of small yellow and white confetti dots. At the top and bottom, there are horizontal rows of balloons. Each row consists of five balloons: two yellow, one black, one yellow, and one black. The balloons have thin yellow strings. In the center of the page, there is a logo for the Charles River Center, which features a stylized sun with rays in orange and yellow, and a red and white circular element below it.
